about me.

Name: Jack Fenton
DOB: 25/08/1991
Health: C-PTSD • Functional Neurological Disorder • HSP
Traits: Strong Intuition • Deeply Introspective • Empathetic • Critical Thinker Expertise: Photography • Design • Videography • Audio Production • UX/UI

A lifelong creative, I channel my CPTSD and heightened sensitivity into art that resonates.

Whether I'm writing music, capturing the energy of a concert, or framing the perfect landscape, my work is fueled by intuition and a deep connection to the world around me.

Inspired by the raw authenticity of the '90s, I blend nostalgia with a modern touch across various mediums, from photography to design, video and songwriting.

Compassionate, empathetic, and always attuned to the subtleties of life, I create with purpose and a little bit of wit.

I love taking photos of my dog. He's an incredibly sweet boy, and he's helped me more than he could ever know. He's taught me what I'm truly like as a person, as a caregiver and helped me understand more about behaviour in animals, including humans.

I love being outdoors with him, and taking him to new places and new environments – and I'm genuinely like a proud dad seeing him make new friends with all the other dogs.

He unfortunately has hip dysplasia in both his back legs, but I'm here to help him and support him with it and provide him with unconditional love, support, play, encouragement and more – and yes, clean up his poop.
